

Wednesday 28th August 2013

This visit is offered to the parents/carers and their families of the Enfield Branch of the National Autistic Society

On Wednesday 28th August we have booked a class for children on the autistic spectrum at The Kids' Cookery School in Acton. The Kids' Cookery School is a unique cookery school for children and young people, teaching around 2,500 students each year how to cook in their purpose-built teaching kitchens in Acton www.thekidscookeryschool.co.uk.

This visit is suitable for children on the autistic spectrum aged 14 and under.

Class time: 2:00pm – 4:00pm
Venue: The Kids' Cookery School, 107 Gunnersbury Lane, Acton, London W3 8HQ
Payment: £10 per child (suggested donation)

We will be travelling to The Kids Cookery School by public transport (Piccadilly line) and will meet at Oakwood Station at 12.15pm and catch the train at 12.30pm prompt.

If you want to arrange your own transport, then please indicate this on the booking form.

Be aware that there are parking restrictions around the school and cameras in the streets. If you want to drive, we suggest you go to their website for more information on their 'Find out about us - Contact Us' page.

To book a place, please complete the attached booking form below and send it to: Anna Leech, 76 Broadfields Ave, Winchmore Hill, London N21 1AH. Please make cheques payable to 'The National Autistic Society, Enfield Branch'. If you have queries, please ring Anna on 020 8360 7384 or e-mail her on annaleech@blueyonder.co.uk.

Please note that parents/carers will be responsible for their children throughout the day. This trip is on a first come first served basis on receipt of booking form and payment. No reservations will be accepted over the phone.
